SALT FLATS TOUR - 3 days/2 nights

The Uyuni Salt Flats –or Salar de Uyuni- is the highlight of any trip to Bolivia, as it represents a unique experience, impossible to equal anywhere else in the world. This legendary prehistoric lake, called Lago Minchín, went dry between 30,000 to 42,000 years ago, leaving behind the most dazzling desert-like landscape of glistening bright-white salt flats, cacti-studded islands and rock formations.

Located in the southwest of Bolivia, the Salt Flats is the largest salt desert in the world. With an altitude of 3653 meters above the sea level, denoting a cold desert climate, the area goes through two distinct seasons: the dry season (between May and October) and the rainy season (between November and April), during which the desert floods creating a natural mirror and a one-of-a-kind scenery.

However, the Salt Flats are not the only treasure this area offers its visitors. This Altiplanic region is also home to Andean lagoons inhabited by pink flamingoes, snow-capped volcanoes, ancient coral lands, mythical caves used as sacred burial grounds by pre-Inca civilizations, and active geysers reaching an altitude of 5000 meters above sea level.

At Altitude we have taken great care in building a fulfilling package that will allow you to explore and discover Bolivia's most outstanding destination, while catering to your every need. Placing you at the frontier of endless natural beauty, this three-day tour will provide you with an unforgettable travel and life experience.

Programme:

Day 1

The tour will start in the town of Uyuni at approximately 10am: depending on your preferences, we can pick you up directly from the airport, the bus terminal or your accommodation in Uyuni. We will then start the day by visiting the Train Cemetery -an immense train graveyard eroded by the salt winds located in the shores of the Salt Flats- continuing towards the indigenous community of Colchani to observe the elaboration of iodized salt in its rustic form.

We then enter to the white deserts in their fullness, driving straight in the middle of the magical Salar de Uyuni. Here, we will visit the typical landscapes of extraction, the Piles of Salt; the unique “eyes of salt”; and the first salt hotel, now a museum; you will be able to enjoy and wonder around the Salt Flats, take perspective and reflection pictures –simply amazing. Lunch will later be served in the heart of the Salt Flats, giving you the incredible opportunity of enjoying traditional food immersed in this unique white desert. In the afternoon, we will take a short trek through the Sajchilla Island, a largely unexplored site scattered by giant cactuses.

In the evening, we will reach the Coquesa community, at the bottom of the Thunupa Volcano, where we will spend the night in a salt hotel after a pleasant evening walk.

Note: upon request, we can add a stargazing tour to observe the night sky upon the white desert, which – thanks to its high altitude and absence of artificial lights- offers a spectacular view of the stars.

Day 2

After breakfast, we will enter once again the Salt Flats to hike through the famous Incahuasi (or “Fisherman”) Island, an ancient island of volcanic rock located in the middle of the Salt Flats and home to millenary giant cacti. Following is a visit the community of San Juan, natural viewpoint to the Ollagüe volcano (still active).

In the afternoon, we will visit the Cañapa and Hedionda lagoons, home to pink flamingo populations. This second day we will stay at the beautiful “Los Flamencos Eco-Hotel”, strategically placed along the banks of the Hedionda lagoon, where we can appreciate the three varieties of flamingos just a few meters away.

Day 3

This last day starts at 6:30am, in order to enjoy the sunrise and visit other lagoons (Chiarкота, Honda and Ramaditas) of the surrounding area. We will then finally enter the National Park Eduardo Abaroa –home to the Colored and Green lagoons, geysers and hot springs (where you can take a relaxing bath surrounded by the Andean mountains), and the unique Silioli and Salvador Dali Deserts. Today we will also pass through the Valley of Rocks to observe the astonishing stone tree.

After lunch, we will start our return back to Uyuni. On the way we will visit the traditional villages of Villamar, Villa Alota and Culpina, as well as the mining town of San Cristobal. The tour ends in Uyuni at approximately 6.30pm.

Note: upon request, we can arrange for our passengers to be transferred to the town of San Pedro de Atacama, Chile.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation on a 4x4 jeep with WiFi on board
- Skilled Driver
- 2-night accommodation (shared rooms with private bathrooms and hot showers), wi-fi
- Meals throughout the tour (3 box lunches, 2 dinners and 2 breakfasts)

DEATH ROAD TOUR

The Death Road is one of the most unique activities Bolivia has to offer. Where else in the world can you cycle from snow-covered Andean Mountains -at an altitude of 4700m- all the way down to the entrance of the amazon jungle -at 1300m - in a just a few hours? Internationally known for being the highlight of one's trip when in South America, this exciting 62 km bike ride exposes some of Bolivia's most breath-taking landscapes, beautiful mountains and sparkling waterfalls.

We say: don't just hear about it, experience it yourself!

When experiencing this activity with Altitude you can be sure your enjoyment, comfort and safety is what matters to us most. With a ratio of 1 to 5, our highly skilled English speaking tour guides -both First Aid and Rope Rescue trained- accompany you the entire time to ensure you are receiving the best quality service. This includes regularly making sure you are happy with the pace; checking that your bike and equipment are intact; and ensuring you have opportunities to stop, relax and enjoy the incredible views.

In addition, as a complimentary service, your tour guides will also take unlimited pictures and videos of you and the entire group in all the iconic locations.

We also feel it is important you know all our bikes and equipment reside in our Altitude Biking Workshop, where they are professionally checked on a daily basis and adjusted for your ride.

And just to add that cheery on top: when finally arriving at the Amazon Jungle you will be given a free survivor T-shirt and you will be greeted with a buffet lunch at our partner hotel, where you can jump in the pool and later take a hot shower. We know, it is a great way to end your day!

JUNGLE & PAMPAS – 5Days/4Nights

If you are a lover of nature and wildlife, this five-day get-away is guaranteed to give you a fulfilling nature experience and offer you a memorable adventure.

Madidi -in the upper Amazon River basin of Bolivia- is the world's most bio-diverse National Park. With an area region of 18,958 km², the park ranges from glacier-covered Andean Mountains down to the tropical rainforest of the Tuichi River: this paradise deep in Rurrenabaque provides a complete and incredible jungle experience.

Moving onto the Pampas, you will then have the chance to visit a vast area of tropical wetlands just on the edge of the Bolivian Amazon: this is a haven for a variety of large animals, including anacondas, capybaras, crocodiles, giant black caimans, monkeys, porcupines, toucans, blue and yellow macaws, jaguars and the famous pink dolphins. The abundant amount of wildlife you get to witness at first hand is truly remarkable!

Our combined Jungle and Pampas tour is specifically designed to provide you with an authentic and rich experience! Whether you're spotting a jaguar, smelling the scent of rare flower types, fishing for piranhas, swimming with pink dolphins or listening out for the chirps of more than 1,000 bird species, there is no better way to experience Bolivia's Amazon than through our ecological and cultural combined tour.

Keen to know more about what this combined tour includes? Here is a detailed day-by-day breakdown of this memorable experience:

Programme:

DAY 1

The day starts at 8.30am departing from Rurrenabaque on a motorboat to Madidi National Park. Travelling up Beni and Tuichi Rivers, you will have the opportunity to witness the wildlife and beautiful landscapes such as the Bala Canyon. At 1:00pm we will arrive at the Madidi Jungle Ecolodge, our accommodation for this first day, where we will be served a hearty typical lunch. At 3:00pm we will set off on a 3-hour guided hike to observe white-lipped peccary, red howler and brown capuchin monkeys, toucans and guans. We will return to our ecolodge just in time for dinner at 7.30pm and a restful night in traditional cabins.

DAY 2

With all our gear packed we will begin a 4-hour trek into the jungle, arriving at Arenalito where we will set up camp for the night. In the afternoon we will take a walk to the top of a mountain where we can see macaws, parrots and other birds, whilst taking in the beautiful scenery of the rainforest. Dinner will be then served at camp. After dinner there is the option of taking another short walk to observe armadillos, snakes, monkeys, tapirs and nocturnal birds –and, with some luck, hear the roar of a jaguar or puma.

DAY 3

This third day will start as early as 5:00am, just in time to see the sun rise a short walk away. We will then return to our camp where breakfast will be served. Afterwards, we will start our activity of the day: river rafting! This activity involves building a log water raft and river rafting for about 2 hours (Please Note: travellers that do not wish to partake in this activity can ride in the motor boat). We will finally arrive at the Mashaquipe Ecolodge where we will be served lunch and later participate in a group activity of your choice.

DAY 4

This fourth day starts at 6:00am, when we will have breakfast before returning to Rurrenabaque. Upon arriving to Rurrenabaque, around 8.30am, we will immediately leave for Santa Rosa: along the way we will have great opportunities to see sloths, anteaters, birds, and other animals. Just before lunch, we will take a short boat trip to The Turtles Ecolodge, where we will be residing. In the afternoon we will be guided along River Yacuma by boat to look for caimans, capybaras, turtles and a number of bird species. We will also have the opportunity to swim with the beautifully unique pink dolphins. Finally, in the evening we will return to your ecolodge for dinner and a restful night.

DAY 5

We will start this last day at 5:00am, in order to watch the sunrise and listen to the jungle awakening. After breakfast we will go back out on River Yacuma, looking for a good place to walk and seek-out anacondas. We will then return to the Ecolodge for lunch and we will finally make our way back to Rurrenabaque -where we will arrive around 4.30pm.

This activity includes the following:

- Transfers to and from Rurrenabaque Airport
- Boat transportation
- Native tour guide (speaks English)
- Accommodation (traditional cabins with shared or private bathrooms available)
- All meals including seasonal fruit (breakfast, lunch and dinner)
- Drinking water at the ecolodge and during meals

COPACABANA & MOON ISLAND – 2Days/1Night

Sampaya is an Aymara community located 18 km from Copacabana, on the shores of the Titicaca Lake. This magic village looks as if it was forgotten by time, a testimony of a culture that has deep roots to an ancient world.

Across Sampaya, in the lake Titicaca, there is the Moon Island. Legends in Inca mythology refer to the island as the location where the gods commanded the rising of the moon. The island counts with several archeological sites dating back to the Inca Empire; in ancient times, the Moon Island was in fact home to a temple whose ruins can still be seen today, and was only inhabited by women -the virgins of the Sun.

Keen to know more about what incredible tour? Following you may find the itinerary of this out-of-time adventure:

Programme:

DAY 1

We meet at 1pm in Copacabana to head off to the ancient town of Sampaya (aprox. 1hour ride), passing by the shore of the Titicaca lake. We will then take a walk in the wonderful Sampaya community, ending the day with a delicious typical Andean dinner. We will pass the night in a marvelous hotel decorated in a mixed modern and traditional Aymara fashion.

DAY 2

After passing the night in the shore of the Titicaca lake -one of the most mystic and wonderful places in the world- we will start this second day with a hearty breakfast.

We will then take a short walk to the pier of Sampaya to take a boat that will take us to the Moon Island. There we will be able to observe the community's organization system and understand the importance of the female figure in the ancestral cultures while walking through the "Warmi Thakhi", the path of women. We will then arrive at the Temple of the Virgins "Iñac Uyu", all led by local guides. Afterwards we will be able to taste a delicious typical Andean snack (Apthapi) while interacting with the locals and learning about their community. At the end of this unforgettable experience, our boat will be waiting for us to take us back to Copacabana.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation by land Copacabana – Sampaya - Copacabana
- Transportation by boat Sampaya – Moon Island - Sampaya
- Local guide
- Accommodation
- Meals (1 lunch, 2 dinners and 1 breakfast).

The cost of this tour includes a contribution for the development of the local community.

THE CHE GUEVARA ROUTE – 3Days/2Nights

Ernesto Che Guevara arrived in Bolivia for the first time aged of 24: he firmly believed that Bolivia's geographical location was ideal to start a revolution, as the country sits in the heart of South America, enabling to spread the movement throughout the region. After his militancy in Cuba, "el Che" returned to Bolivia, where he was captured by CIA-assisted Bolivian forces and summarily executed.

This private Che Guevara tour takes you through time, retracing this iconic figure's final steps through the beautiful villages of the Santa Cruz region: the sights visited radiate richness in history, propelling a great sense of who Ernesto Che Guevara was and the legendary memories he left behind.

Here at Altitude, we have built a package that offers you an unforgettable experience, while guaranteeing you the best service and a personalized attention by our highly experienced, knowledgeable and multilingual tour guides. Your enjoyment and satisfaction are what matters to us most!

Keen to know more about what you will explore during this tour? Here is a quick breakdown on this three-day programme, what is included and what we advise to bring along.

Programme:

DAY 1

We will start this first day at Santa Cruz, where you will be picked up directly from your accommodation and driven to Vallegrande -a small colonial town surrounded by mountains, located 2030 meters above sea level. Here we will have the opportunity to visit Che's famous places: Señor de Malta Hospital, the little museums and the Memorial grounds. In the evening, we will return to our hotel, where we will enjoy a hearty dinner and have a restful night.

DAY 2

We will start this day at 7.30am with a traditional breakfast. Our tour will then continue towards La Higuera, where Che Guevara was killed, stopping on the way at Pucará (a typical Bolivian village). After lunch, we will head to Quebrada del Churo -the site where Che was injured and trapped. In the afternoon, we will make our way back to Vallegrande, visiting the school where el Che was executed, finally arriving at our hotel around 7:00pm to enjoy a delicious dinner.

DAY 3

After breakfast, we will set off to visit Samaipata, an archaeological site and UNESCO World Heritage. In the afternoon, we will visit the archaeological museum of Samaipata, home to ancient and monumental objects found in the ruins of El Fuerte. We will then begin to make our way back to Santa Cruz, stopping at the Cuevas (caves) of Samaipata. We will arrive back in Santa Cruz at approximately 7:00pm.

LA PAZ CITY TOUR

As the largest city in Bolivia, La Paz has so much culture and diversity to offer its visitors: at Altitude, we have designed a walking tour with you in mind that brings to light this city's hidden gems.

Our half-day walking tour provides you with the perfect opportunity to observe and experience the lively nature of La Paz City; wonder through its unique alleys and lively markets; marvel at the interesting museums; and finally witness the spectacular city from a birds-eye-view perspective as you ride the famous cable car. Throughout the entire time, you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual local tour guide, who will be happy to answer any question you might have.

This is undoubtedly a great way to explore this unique city, providing you with an experience you won't forget!

This activity includes the following:

CHACALTAYA & MOON VALLEY

This unique tour combines two of Bolivia's most visited touristic attractions. Mount Chacaltaya, located just over an hour drive away from the city of La Paz, and Valle de la Luna ("Moon Valley"), just 10 km from downtown La Paz. When in Bolivia, these are sights that have to be seen!

Historically known for once being the world's highest ski resort, during this activity you will take a breath-taking walk to the top of Chacaltaya, where the mountain rests in the clouds at 17,785 feet (higher than Mount Everest base camp). Here you will be able to enjoy the powerful silence of the mountain, accompanied by the spectacular views of Lake Titicaca, Illampu, Sajama, Illimani, La Paz and El Alto.

After this incredible adventure on the top of the world, you will be driven to Valle de la Luna (Moon Valley), which is said to have been named by astronaut Neil Armstrong, as it lends a view like nothing on Earth. Valle de la Luna is a mesmerising maze of canyons and giant spires composed of clay and sandstone; the formations were created by the persistent erosion caused by the area's strong winds and rains. What now remains is a serene setting full of wonder and intrigue. In this incredible site, you will be able to walk in a special path through the canyons, explore and capture some remarkable pictures.

When experiencing this combined tour via Altitude Adventures we can assure you your enjoyment, comfort and safety is what matters to us most.

Throughout this tour you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual speaking tour guide, with a wealth of knowledge and curiosities to share, who will be regularly checking you're happy with the walking pace and that you have ample opportunities to stop, relax, capture the scenery and take in the views.

Keen to book this combined tour? Here is a quick breakdown on what this package includes and what we advise to bring along.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation to and from both Chacaltaya and Valle de la Luna
- Highly skilled bilingual tour guide (Spanish and English)

This activity does NOT include the following:

CHOLITAS WRESTLING

Enjoy the crazy, hilarious and unique spectacle of La Paz's most unusual attraction!

Inspired by America's WWF and Mexico's famous Lucha Libre, Cholita Wrestling is a one-of-a-kind event featuring Bolivian Women battling it out in their spectacular fashion. For so many of our travellers, this is one of Bolivia's most iconic experiences!

Performing every Sunday and Thursday afternoon for an audience of hundreds, at El Alto's Multifunctional Centre, you wouldn't want to miss this spectacle. It is totally worth organizing your trip around this very day, as this visually striking performance goes above and beyond your typical show, breaking down the forth-wall, interacting with its spectators and entertaining you from beginning to end.

Facilitated via Altitude Adventures, this excursion delivers you the complete package: transportation to and from La Paz city center, VIP seats, a snack, souvenirs, and an English speaking assistant who will be with you the entire time to ensure your enjoyment.

TIWANACU TOUR

Tiwanaku is a remarkable Pre-Columbian archaeological site that carries significant importance in understanding the Inca Empire; recent studies have reported it is over 17,000 years old! A visit to Tiwanaku's ruins makes an outstanding day trip from La Paz: if you are a lover of history, myths and mysteries, when in Bolivia this visit is well worth it.

Originally Tiwanaku was a ritual city, which at its height was home to perhaps 40,000 people - plus approximately 500,000 people living in the three surrounding valleys. During this guided tour you will be talked through its entire history and visit its fascinating museums, which reveal ancient treasures and chronicles full of mystery.

Facilitated via Altitude Adventures, this day tour has been specifically designed to provide you with an authentic, rich and unforgettable experience! Throughout the entire day, you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual tour guide, who carries a wealth of knowledge and will be with you the entire time to talk you through all the sights and answer any question you may have.

SUCRE CITY TOUR -Full Day

Sucre is unanimously considered Bolivia's most beautiful city, as well as the symbolic heart of the nation. This city resumes the colonial history of Bolivia from its most ancient origins: a glorious ensemble of whitewashed buildings, it is a spruce place that preserves a wealth of colonial architecture and historical memories. Founded in 1538 with the name of Ciudad de Plata (Silver City) by the Spanish colonial empire, it is here where independence was proclaimed, and while La Paz is now the seat of government, Sucre is recognized in the Constitution as the nation's capital.

Our Full Day tour has been designed to provide you with an ample opportunity to discover the amazing wonders offered by this unique colonial city, visiting its most iconic sites: La Recoleta (the location where Sucre was founded, from which it is possible to admire all the historic center), the museums, the San Francisco Church, the central market and the Liberty House. Throughout the entire time, you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual local tour guide, who will be happy to answer any question and share with you his pool of historical knowledge. This is undeniably a great way to explore this unique city, providing you with an experience we guarantee you won't forget!

POTOSI CITY TOUR – Half Day

At an altitude of 4090 meters, Potosi is one of the highest cities in the world, as well as one of the most historically-rich cities in Bolivia. In 1650, Potosi was the most populated city in the world, due to its richness in silver. Potosi lies at the foot of “Cerro Rico” -a mountain popularly conceived as being “made of” silver, having been the major supply of silver for Spain during the period of the New World Spanish Empire.

In 1987, Potosi was declared by UNESCO a World Heritage site: in fact, the city has stayed intact throughout the centuries, not only in its architecture, but also in the presence of its original cultures and ethnicities.

Its architectural heritage is represented by numerous colonial buildings such as the gothic Cathedral, the “Casa de la Moneda”, one of the most outstanding civil buildings in Latin America preserving important colonial archives, as well as the beautiful San Francisco Church.

Our half-day tour has been specifically designed to provide you with the perfect opportunity to discover the amazing wonders offered by this unique colonial city, visiting its most iconic sites: the Cathedral, historic streets such as Sucre and Nogales, San Francisco Church, Arco de Cobija, the city’s museums (to choose between San Francisco, Santa Teresa or Casa de la Moneda), the Miners’ Market, and San Lorenzo.

Throughout the entire time, you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual local tour guide, who will be happy to answer any question and share with you his pool of historical knowledge. This is undeniably a great way to explore this unique city, providing you with an experience we guarantee you won’t forget!

POTOSI MINES' TOUR

Potosí was founded as a mining town in 1546, while Bolivia was still part of the Viceroyalty of Peru. Over the next 200 years, more than 40,000 tons of silver were shipped out of the town, making the Spanish Empire one of the richest the world had ever seen. The city lies at the foot of “Cerro Rico” -a mountain popularly conceived as being “made of” silver, having been the major supply of silver for Spain during the period of the New World Spanish Empire. By 1650, Potosi had become the most populated city in the world.

This half-day tour has been specifically designed to provide you with a unique opportunity to discover the mysteries and history of Potosi’s mines; throughout the tour, you will be able to visit the Mining Market and the Mineral Refining Plant, where you can observe the process of refinement and separation of minerals; we will later stop at a lookout point, and visit a Mine where we will learn about the beliefs and histories related to the mining culture, as well as descent three levels to observe the miners’ workplace.

Throughout the entire time, you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual local tour guide, who will be happy to answer any question and share with you his pool of historical knowledge. This is undeniably a great way to explore this unique city, providing you with an experience we guarantee you won’t forget!

HUAYNA POTOSI – 3Days/2Nights

Huayna Potosi is the highest accessible mountain of the Cordillera Real, located just 25 km away from the city of La Paz. This is Bolivia's most popular major peak because of its imposing beauty, as well as the fact that it is 88 m over the magic 6000 m figure.

Huayna Potosi's appeal is also due to the fact that, with a competent guide and proper technical equipment, it can be climbed by beginners. But watch: fit beginners! In fact, the mountain is quite steep towards the end and it is a tough climb.

Keen to know more about what this combined tour includes? Here is a detailed day-by-day breakdown of this memorable experience:

Programme:

DAY 1

We meet at 8:30 am and head off to the refuge “Zongo Pass” by shared transportation. From there, we will trek for about an hour and a half to arrive at Huayna Potosi (Base Camp) at 4.700 m. We will then have a warm lunch, and afterwards start another 40minutes trek until the old glacier to practice climbing, later returning to the base camp to spend the night.

DAY 2

After breakfast, we start our trek along the Zongo dam until the trailhead located at the top, continuing along a hillside. After 4 hours of trekking we will be arriving at the High Camp (5100 m), where we will have an early dinner and renew energies to prepare for the last day. This camp sits on a plain at the bottom of the steep slope of ice which we will scale the next day.

DAY 3

This day we begin the climb at 1:00 am. We depart with lit lanterns, and climb for 5-6 hours to finally reach the summit of Huayna Potosi (6.088 m) in time to witness the break of dawn. From here, we will appreciate the wonderful view of the highlands of the Cordillera Real and the Titicaca Lake. Finally, after some time to relax and renew energies, we will make our descend to the base camp and take the vehicle back to the city. We will get back mid to late afternoon.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation La Paz – Refuge – La Paz
- Experienced Mountain Tour Guide (one every two passengers)
- All meals (breakfast, lunch and dinner)
- Full Mountain equipment

EL CHORO TREK – 3Days/2Nights

El Choro is one of Bolivia's most popular downhill treks, as it doesn't require any previous trekking experience, while offering a truly remarkable variety of landscapes and spectacular views!

This mesmerising three-day trek begins at La Cumbre -a spectacular site surrounded by Andean Mountains- and will take you up to an altitude of 4859m before descending 3250 meters into the subtropical vegetation of the Yungas. The tour will then end in Chairo, the entrance into Bolivia's rain forest.

Along this 57 km trek you will experience stunning views, notice a warm change in climate and witness an abundant amount of natural beauty including; citrus and banana trees, coffee and coca plantations, colorful birds, butterflies, sparkling waterfalls and -if you are lucky- even a Spectacled Bear. If you love nature and camping outdoors this trek is perfect for you!

Here at Altitude we want you to know this trek has been specifically designed to provide you with an authentic, safe and rich experience. We recognize its environment can be challenging, especially considering the climate and living facilities; we have however worked extremely hard in designing a package that offers you the very best under what may be considered difficult conditions. Throughout this tour you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual tour guide, who will be with you the entire time, prioritizing your comfort, safety and most importantly enjoyment.

Keen to know more about what this three-day trek includes? Here is a detailed day-by-day breakdown.

Programme:

DAY 1

We will pick you up directly from your accommodation in La Paz, and drive you to La Cumbre, at an altitude of 4770 meters. The trek then begins uphill to reach the Apacheta Pass at 4859 meters. We will then start a spectacular 7-hour descent, which will pass through Chukura, a small village where we will have lunch. In the late afternoon we will arrive at Challapampa campsite, at 2800 meters, where we will enjoy a warm dinner and spend the night.

DAY 2

We will start the day trekking through one of the few untouched cloud forests left in Bolivia, a protected area in the Cotapata National Park. The trek then descends through narrow valleys where you will be able to see more incredible cloud forest trees, colorful birds and butterflies. After approximately 7 hour descent we will arrive at San Francisco campsite, where we will spend the night camping.

TAKESI TREK – 3Days/2Nights

The Takesi Trek is one of Bolivia's best and most popular downhill walks through the Andes. This fantastic three-day trail consists of a 30 km hike that crosses the Cordillera Real and plunges down into the steamy forested valleys of the Yungas, emerging at the village of Yanacachi, west of Chulumani.

Also known as Camino del Inca (Inca Trail), the Takesi trek walks across one of the finest remaining pre-Columbian paved roads in Bolivia, revealing some of the country's ancient history: one can only take the time to imagine those who have wondered this very path in earlier and forgotten times. Aside from its extraordinary history, stonework and amazing variety of scenery, what is great about this road is that it makes the trip incredibly accessible without taking away its adventurous quality.

Along the way you will enjoy the spectacular views of the Mururata Peak, abandoned mines, cascading rivers, spectacular lagoons, waterfalls and quaint villages.

At Altitude, we have specifically designed this tour to provide you with an authentic, safe and rich experience! Throughout the entire time you will be accompanied by a highly skilled bilingual tour guide, who will put at your disposal a wealth of knowledge and experience, and will prioritize your comfort, safety and enjoyment.

Keen to know more about this three-day trek? Here is a detailed day-by-day breakdown.

Programme:

DAY 1

You will be picked up directly at your accommodation in La Paz, and driven through the Illimani road. Your trek will begin at San Francisco Mine, trekking approximately 2 hours through the pre-Inca trails and arriving at the Apacheta high pass, at 4700m, from where you will be able to see the spectacular views of the Mururata peak and distant cloud forests in the lowland valleys. We will then trek past abandoned mines and high-Andean lagoons, to finally arrive at the picturesque river of Takesi at 3580m. We will spend the night at Puente Takesi in stone cabins, after enjoying a hearty warm dinner.

DAY 2

This second day we will begin our decent to the Bolivian Yungas, following the Takesi River: this trail borders the Quimsa Chata Hill, where the pre-Columbian trail disappears. We will also come across small villages along the way, such as Kakapi (2800m) and an old cattle ranch which used to control the valley during the colony. In the afternoon, we will arrive at Chojlla, where the pre-Columbian trail reappears, and not far off is the Chojlla Mine (2270m). Passed the mining area, we will head to accommodation for the night where dinner will be served.

CONDORIRI – Full Day

This is a great one-day option for those travelers with little time who still wish to experience the beauty of Bolivia's Andean landscapes. The exceptional "Tuni Condoriri" Mountain offers in fact isolated landscapes with spotless lakes and fascinating Andean fauna like gulls, Andean geese and wild ducks.

This trek ascends completely solitary mountains, where you can experience the complete silence of the mountains with the only exception of llamas passing. The melting ice creates small trickles that eventually wind their way down to Lake Titicaca. While on the trek, you will enjoy the company of numerous llamas, occasional alpacas and many smaller animals such as viscachas, lizards, ibises and gulls.

The trek begins at an altitude of 4300 m: a 3-hours trekking takes us to an altitude of 4,600m, where you can enjoy an impressive view of the snow-covered Tuni Condoriri Mountain (5.648m). After a relaxing break and a hearty lunch, we will trek back two and a half hours to the "Plaza de Llamas", where our transportation will be waiting for us to take us back to La Paz.

Built with you in mind, we at Altitude have worked extremely hard in designing a package that offers you the very best of this incredible tour, prioritizing your safety and ensuring you have the best and most memorable experience.

This activity includes the following:

- Professional Trekking guide
- Lunch
- Transportation from and to La Paz

This activity does NOT include the following:

- Entrance fees (15bs.)

We advise you to bring the following:

- Water (we recommend to bring 2+ liters of water)

LLAMA TREK – 15 Days

This incredible 15-days trek will take us through some of the most beautiful landscapes and most representative archaeological sites of Bolivia, thus representing an extraordinary opportunity to discover both the Bolivian culture and the unique views offered by the Andean environment.

During these 15 days, we must be prepared for all the weather conditions: hot and sunny; hail and rain; and cold snow. We will be passing pristine Andean lakes, walking through Inca trails, and crossing beautiful valleys with countless condors, llamas and alpacas. On clear nights, the Milky Way and southern constellations can be seen with astonishing clarity, offering us incredible views and a unique life experience.

We will have available llamas to carry all the supplies for us on this trip; however, this is still a demanding trek and it is advisable to be in good shape for the hike.

Keen to know more about this three-day trek? Here is a detailed day-by-day breakdown.

Programme:

DAY 1 La Paz – Tiwanacu – Copacabana

This first day starts with an early departure to visit Tiwanacu, considered to be the most important ancient civilization from the pre-Colombian period. Here we will visit the most representative archaeological sites, such as the Akhapana pyramid, the semi-subterranean temple adorned with transfixed limestone sculptures, and the local museums. In the afternoon we will travel towards Copacabana, on the shores of Lake Titikaka, where we spend the night.

DAY 2 Copacabana – Sun Island

After a hearty breakfast, we will take a boat to visit the Sun Island, on Lake Titikaka. This day we will have the chance to take a long trek through this incredible island, discovering the ancient ruins and temples dating back to the Inca rule. We will then pass the night in the Island, enjoying the sounds of the lake and the view of the night sky uncontaminated by artificial lights.

DAY 3 Sun Island – Sorata

In the morning, we will be transferred by boat to the west the Royal Andean Range. We will spend about three hours on the boat, enjoying the incredible views offered by Lake Titikaka, before arriving to the harbor where our cook will be waiting for us with a tasty meal. After lunch we will board our vehicles to continue to Sorata village, where we will spend our third night.

DAY 4 Sorata – Ancoma

The fourth day we will ride to the small village of Ancoma: along the way it is possible to observe corn plantations, lagoons and scenic mountain landscapes. In Ancoma we will spend our first Camping night.

DAY 5 Ancoma – Cocoyo

Today we will start a gentle walk, through which we will observe old gold mines, snow capped mountains, and Mt. Hanco Huma; we will also meet natives working in these remote areas once used by ancient cultures,. In the afternoon we start hiking downhill to the village of Cocoyo and arrive to our camping place.

DAY 6 Cocoyo – Chajolpaya

This day we will observe the Chiaroco Mountain, and the beautiful valley of Chajolpaya, located in a huge plateau divided by a winding river. We will then walk uphill to the Sarani pass at 4600m, and in the afternoon we will set up our camp in the splendid nature of Chajolpaya valley.

DAY 7 Chajolpaya – Negruni

After breakfast, we will start walking through a steep trail, hiking to the Negruni pass a 4960m, where we will enjoy the incredible view of the glaciers. We will later descend to 4240m, where we will set our camping.

DAY 8 Negruni – Lloconi (Also named Chearoco)

This day we will descend slowly to the wonderful Palca valley, where there are several small plateaus. In the afternoon we will walk along Chiquini's River, at an average altitude of 4000m, later engaging in a soft hiking uphill until we finally set up our camp at 4220m.

DAY 9 Lloco Lloconi – Janque lacaya

This ninth day we will get across two mountains passes, walking near the skirts of the mountain, and finally reaching the pass at 4800m, enjoying the beautiful views of the landscape. In the afternoon we will arrive at a large grassy plateau, our next camping site (4620m).

DAY 10 Janqu Lacaya – Quta Thiya

A long traverse will take us to the next valley, where we will see many torrents of water that descend forming little lagoons and end in the Quata Thiya Lake. In the afternoon we will get to the bottom of a valley protected by granite peaks, and we will set our camp at 4350m.

DAY 11 Leisure Day

Today we will enjoy the incredible landscapes while taking the day to relax and regain energies: a vehicle will meet us with fresh supplies from La Paz.

DAY 12 Quta thiya – Ajuani

With renewed energies, we will start our hiking up the pass, to later descend to a beautiful area where we have some pristine lakes around 4450m. Then we will slantingly ascend to the east of the Lake Chiara Khota, in order to reach the pass at 4800m. In the afternoon we will arrive to the Ajwani Lake.

DAY 13 Ajwani – Lago Juricota

Continuing to ascend through a mountainous path, we will cross the pass of 4700m, which will allow us to observe the impressive Huayna Potosí, one of the most spectacular mountains in

SALT FLATS - Full Day

The Salt Flats of Uyuni is by far Bolivia's main attraction as it represents a unique experience, impossible to equal anywhere else in the world. This legendary prehistoric lake, called Lago Minchín, went dry between 30,000 to 42,000 years ago, leaving behind the most dazzling desert-like landscape of glistening bright-white salt flats, cacti-studded islands and rock formations.

Placing you at the frontier of endless natural beauty, this tour to Uyuni Salt Flats is truly astonishing, guaranteeing an unforgettable travel and life experience.

At Altitude we have taken great care in building a fulfilling package that caters to your every need, while also leaving you free to roam and explore. For the entire day you will be chauffeured in a 4x4 land cruiser by a highly skilled driver and accompanied by an English-speaking tour guide. Leading you through all the sights, your tour guide will answer any questions you may have whilst prioritizing your comfort, safety and enjoyment.

Programme:

We depart at 10.00 am in Uyuni, where you will be picked up directly from the Bus Terminal or your accommodation. We will start the tour by visiting the Train Cemetery: an immense train graveyard eroded by the salt winds located in the shores of the Salt Flats. We will continue towards the indigenous community of Colchani, observing the elaboration of iodized salt in its rustic form. We then enter to the white deserts in their fullness, visiting the typical landscapes of extraction, the Piles of Salt; the unique "eyes of salt"; and the first Salt Hotel, now a museum. We will finally walk through the famous Incahuasi Island with its millenary giant cacti and breathtaking views, returning to Uyuni around 6:00pm.

Please Note: Any part of this tour can be modified to meet your needs and requests.

JUNGLE TOUR – 3Days/2Nights

Located in the upper Amazon River basin of Bolivia, Madidi is the world's most bio-diverse National Park. With an area of 18'958 km², this park ranges from glacier-covered Andean Mountains down to the tropical rainforest of the Tuichi River. Known for being part of one of the world's largest protected areas, this jungle paradise provides a unique three-day get-away, taking you deep into Rurrenabaque and providing you with a complete jungle experience.

Here at Altitude we know there is no better way to experience Madidi National Park than through one of our ecological and cultural tours.

Our tours are specifically designed to provide you with an authentic, safe and rich jungle experience! During this tour you will enjoy all the beauties this bio-diverse nature park has to offer: whether you are spotting a jaguar, smelling the scent of rare flower types, listening out for the chirps of more than 1000 bird species or setting up camp in Arenalito, we know this experience will be impossible to forget! With a record-breaking number of species and plants, mesmerising hikes, unique wildlife, jungle camping, river rafting and an incredibly rich culture and history, when visiting Bolivia we believe this is a tour that cannot be missed.

As spectacular as it is, we also recognize the environment can be challenging, especially when considering the high temperatures and the living facilities: built with you in mind, we have thus worked extremely hard to design a package that offers you the very best under what may be considered harsh conditions. In addition, throughout this tour you will be accompanied by a highly skilled native tour guide, who will be with you the entire time prioritizing your comfort, safety and enjoyment.

Keen to know more about this tour? Here is a detailed breakdown of what to expect:

Programme:

DAY 1

The tour will start at 8.30am, when we will hop on a motored dugout canoe to ride along Beni and Tuichi Rivers; during the ride, we will learn about the community and jungle lifestyle while witnessing magnificent views. We will then arrive at the Mashaquipe Ecolodge, where you will be welcomed with a refreshing glass of juice and shown your accommodation for the first night. In the afternoon we will enjoy a leisurely nature walk along trails specifically designed for animal watching, such as monkeys and peccaries. Upon our return to the ecolodge you will have the opportunity to take a shower and relax before dinner is served.

DAY 2

Breakfast will be served at 7.30am. Afterwards, we will begin a 4-hours trek into the jungle, arriving at Arenalito where we will set up our camp for the night. Lunch will then be served and you will have the opportunity to take a well deserved break. At 3:30pm we will be taken on a walk to observe nesting macaws, parrots and other bird species: this is an amazing sight as the birds, scenery, and jungle sounds are phenomenal. In the evening, we will finally return to our camp where a hearty dinner will be waiting for us to enjoy. After dinner there is the option of taking another short walk to witness armadillos, snakes, monkeys, tapirs and nocturnal birds.

DAY 3

This final day will start at 5:00am, to watch the sun rise just a short walk away. After breakfast, we will start our activity of the day: river rafting! This activity involves building a log water raft and river rafting for about 2 hours (Please Note: travellers that do not wish to partake in this activity can ride in the motor boat). We will finally arrive at the Mashaquipe Ecolodge where we will be served lunch and later make our way back to Rurrenabaque, where we will arrive at approximately 4:00pm.

This activity includes the following:

- Transfers to and from Rurrenabaque Airport
- Native tour guide (speaks English)
- All meals (breakfast, lunch and dinner)
- Drinking water at the lodge and during meals
- Two nights accommodation
- Sleeping bag

TORO TORO - 3Days/2Nights

Toro Toro National Park is a protected area in Bolivia situated in the North, at approximately 3-4 hours away from Cochabamba. The Park has an area of 165,700 km² and is known to have some of the most spectacular and diverse landscapes in the country: in fact, Toro Toro hosts diverse fossils, dinosaur tracks and bones, deep canyons, waterfalls and caves. These elements make it an area particularly interesting for paleontologic, archeological and cultural studies and investigations.

At an altitude of between 2000 and 3000 meters above sea level, Toro Toro also counts with canyons as deep as 300 meters. With over 1000 species of plants as well as great diversity in fauna and waterfalls this is the perfect place in Bolivia for both nature and adventure lovers!

At Altitude we have taken great care in building this fulfilling three-day package that caters to your every need, ensuring you receive a rich and authentic experience. An experienced tour guide will always be with the group to escort you around all the sights, constantly providing you with great facts and historical overviews. Leading you through all the sights, your tour guide will answer any questions you may have whilst prioritizing your comfort, safety and enjoyment.

Keen to know more about this tour? Here is a quick breakdown on this three-day programme, what's included and what we advise to bring along.

Programme:

DAY 1

The tour starts at 9pm in La Paz, where you will take an overnight bus to Toro Toro. At 6am you will board your connecting bus to Toro Toro National Park. Along the way you will be able to marvel at a number of touristic places such as: Valle Alto, Tarata and Anzaldo. Breakfast will be provided during the drive. You will arrive at Toro Toro National Park at approximately 11am, when you will check-in at your accommodation and take a short rest before having lunch.

At 2pm you will take a short ride to the Umajalanta Cave, an amazing site carved by nature throughout millions of years. You will then start an amazing adventure, walking through another cave accompanied by some low crawling and a number of rope descents. We will finally drop you off at your accommodation for dinner and a good night rest.

DAY 2

Breakfast is served at 7.30am. We will then go and visit the city of Itas, approximately an hour and a half away. During our time here we will be able to see different dinosaur tracks, bones and natural bridges made out of rock. In the afternoon we visit the Labyrinth of Giants, looking out from the canyons and observing the different rock formations.

DAY 3

Breakfast is served at 8am. This last day we will visit the El Vergel Canyon, which still contains water and is filled with incongruous mosses, vines and other tropical vegetation.

We will then take a short walk down the canyon via a cobbled stairway, where we will find different waterholes and waterfalls. We will have lunch at around 2pm and finally return to our accommodation to collect our belongings and begin our return to La Paz.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation
- Local tour guide
- Accommodation
- All meals (breakfast, lunch and dinner)
- Entrance fees
- All equipment

We advise you to bring the following:

- Appropriate clothing and footwear
- Trekking boots
- Sunglasses
- Sunscreen
- Camera

OVERLAND PROGRAM – 5Days/4Nights

This five-day tour reveals two of Bolivia's most incredible attractions, Sajama National Park and the Salt Flats of Uyuni. Sajama National Park is Bolivia's oldest national park, lying in the Central Andean ecoregion. It features a spectacular Andean landscape, including geological natural wonders like volcanoes, diverse organisms, and thermal springs, as well as cultural wonders such as ancient burial buildings, cave paintings, and colonial architecture and art. It also contains the snowy cone of the volcano Sajama, the highest mountain in Bolivia, with 6542 meters. Many different indigenous plants and animals are exclusive to this area; therefore, its continued conservation is of great ecological importance.

On the other hand, the Salt Flats of Uyuni is by far Bolivia's main attraction as it represents a unique experience, impossible to equal anywhere else in the world. This legendary prehistoric lake, called Lago Minchin, went dry between 30,000 to 42,000 years ago, leaving behind the most dazzling desert-like landscape of glistening bright-white salt flats, cacti-studded islands and rock formations.

Placing you at the frontier of endless natural beauty, this complete tour is truly astonishing, guaranteeing an unforgettable travel and life experience.

Programme:

DAY 1

We start this incredible adventure leaving the city of La Paz and heading off toward the mystic "Altiplano Sur", taking our first stop to visit ancient funeral towers belonging to the Urus culture. We will then have a hearty lunch near the "Desaguadero" River, which formerly connected the Salt Flats with Lake Titicaca.

We will then continue toward the Sajama National Park, where we can take some optional hikes to observe the wonders of this incredible place. In the evening, watch the sunset in an area full of geysers and hot springs.

DAY 2

After breakfast, we will head South, taking several stops to enjoy the typical landscapes of the Altiplano, with its wonderful and colored lagoons and wildlife. We will later stop by an attractive location and enjoy a delicious lunch.

In the afternoon, we will continue our way to the Coipasa Salt Flat, the second largest one in the world. Just before the end of the afternoon we will take a stop at the mysterious town "Alcaya" home to the ancient Wankarani culture. We will finally arrive to the Uyuni Salt Flats just in time to watch the stunning sunset. After dinner, we have the option of taking a walk in the Salt Flats to see the stars and take some pictures that will make you think you are in a science fiction movie.

DAY 3

After breakfast, we start our adventure exploring the incredible Salt Flats of Uyuni, where we will be able to take crazy perspective photos –the ones Uyuni are famous for! A delicious lunch in the middle of a white desert will give us energy to take a walk through the Incahuasi island, famous for its giant cacti and rock formations. In the evening, we will arrive to our accommodation in the Agencha community.

DAY 4

This day we will visit the “Eduardo Avaroa” National Reserve, where we can see incredible volcanoes, walk along the famous stone tree in the Salvador Dali Desert, and observe flamencos in their natural habitat –splendid lagoons of different and vivid colors.

DAY 5

We will begin this day by heading off the geysers and hot springs, where the bravest passengers can take an unforgettable swim in the middle of this wonderful natural landscape. We will finally visit the astonishing Valley of Rocks before ending our tour back in Uyuni in the late afternoon.

This activity includes the following:

- Transportation on 4x4 and experienced driver
- All meals and drinking water
- Professional tour guide
- Accommodation

This activity does NOT include:

- Entrance fees to National Parks

DAY 4 VISIT TO THE SALT FLATS OF UYUNI

The Salt Flats of Uyuni are by far Bolivia's main attraction as they represent a unique experience, impossible to equal anywhere else in the world. This legendary prehistoric lake, called Lago Minchín, went dry between 30,000 to 42,000 years ago, leaving behind the most dazzling desert-like landscape of glistening bright-white salt flats, cacti-studded islands and rock formations.

Placing you at the frontier of endless natural beauty, the next days' journey will provide you with an unforgettable travel and life experience.

We will start the tour by visiting the Train Cemetery, continuing towards the indigenous community of Colchani, observing the elaboration of iodized salt in its rustic form. We then enter to the white deserts in their fullness, visiting the typical landscapes of extraction, the Piles of Salt; and the unique "eyes of salt". We will finally enter the famous Incahuasi Island, a volcanic rock prehistoric island scattered by giant cacti, before arriving to your salt hotel to spend the night.

INCLUDES:

- Guided tour in the Salt Flats
- Entrance fee to the Incahuasi Island
- Box lunch and dinner (breakfast only for the DE LUXE category)
